The city of Diaspar, suspended high above the Earth's surface, is a marvel of technological advancement and human progress. But beneath its glittering surface lies a mystery that has haunted the city for centuries.

What is the City of Diaspar?

Diaspar is a vast, self-contained city that orbits the Earth at a height of over 20,000 miles. Its population of eight billion humans lives in a highly advanced and sophisticated society, with advanced technology that has eliminated disease, poverty, and war. Yet, despite their seemingly perfect existence, the people of Diaspar are haunted by a sense of emptiness and longing.

Who Inhabits the City?

The inhabitants of Diaspar, known as the Eternals, are not fully human but rather a genetically modified offshoot. They have been engineered for longevity, with lifespans measured in thousands of years. They live in a state of suspended animation, only awakening when needed to perform specific tasks. This immortality, while initially seen as a blessing, has become a source of existential angst.

What is the Mystery of the City?

Beneath the seemingly idyllic surface of Diaspar lies a dark secret. The city was founded by a race of beings known as the Overlords, who disappeared millions of years ago. The Overlords left behind a single message, which has been deciphered by the Eternals: "You are not alone." This message has fueled both hope and despair, with the people of Diaspar wondering who the Overlords were and what their intentions were.

What is the Search for the Overlords?

For centuries, the Eternals have searched for the Overlords, believing that they may hold the key to their existential dilemma. They have sent out expeditions to explore the ruins of????, hoping to find clues to the Overlords' fate. However, their efforts have been met with failure, leaving the people of Diaspar in a state of despair and resignation.
